THE SILENT AUCTION LOTS

LOT 5 A TRIP TO COOLMORE STUD AND THE WORLD FAMOUS BALLYDOYLE TRAINING ESTABLISHMENT

Kindly donated by Coolmore Stud · Reserve £2,000

An exceptionally-rare opportunity – a trip for four people with lunch to the Coolmore Stud to see some of the world’s greatest stallions, Danehill Dancer, Galileo, Montjeu, etc, which will be followed with a tour to Aidan O’Brien’s magnificent training centre at Ballydoyle. In and around the old market town of Fethard, Co. Tipperary, the Coolmore farms occupy some of the finest land in Ireland and over the years have created a dynasty of classic winning thoroughbreds and the world’s leading bloodlines.

Right after the Coolmore obsession with horses comes the Coolmore obsession with the land they’re raised on. That’s why Coolmore is in the heart of the Golden Vale, on some of the finest land in Ireland. The Magnier family have been raising horses since the mid 19th century, and this is Coolmore’s headquarters established by John Magnier, Robert Sangster and the legendary figure of M.V. O’Brien, rated, and not by us, as the greatest trainer in Ireland and England of the 20th century. Around here, people and horses combine to make something enduring – history.

In 2004, Sadler’s Wells, the world’s leading sire with 74 Group 1 winners became Champion Sire for a remarkable 14th time, smashing Highflyer’s record which was set way back in 1798.

But Sadler’s Wells is just one of the many reasons why this farm, in Tipperary, is known as the Home of Champions. Reigning Champion Sire Galileo, proven Group 1 sires like Montjeu, Danehill Dancer, Peintre Celebre and Rock of Gibraltar and exciting young sires like Duke of Marmalade, Dylan Thomas, Holy Roman Emperor and Hurricane Run are others.

LOT 12

À LA CARTE DINNER AND ACCOMMODATION FOR TWO PEOPLE AT THE KINGHAM PLOUGH

Kindly donated by Mr and Mrs Miles Lampson · Minimum bid £200

Pamper the palate with a gourmet dinner for two from the à la carte menu of chef-proprietor, Emily Watkins, and enjoy maximum comfort for one night in one of the seven boutique style en-suite bedrooms at the revered Kingham Plough, in Oxfordshire. The Kingham Plough re-opened, following extensive refurbishment, in August 2007, to wide critical acclaim. The quintessential Cotswold Inn has an outstanding restaurant alongside the perfect Village Pub. Situated on the Village Green in Kingham, proclaimed 'England's Favourite Village' by Country Life magazine, the area has an abundance of attractions nearby. Emily Watkins, former sous chef to Heston Blumenthal of 'The Fat Duck' in Bray, changes the short menu daily to accommodate the abundant seasonal and local produce. Daily deliveries from local fruit farms, small holdings and game estates, as well as foraged fungi and sea vegetables all arrive to be transformed into fresh modern British dishes. Don't be surprised if the menu at the end of the evening has somewhat evolved from the opening menu as dishes are replaced with even more seasonal produce! The Kingham Plough was rated No. 1 restaurant in the West Country and No. 5 in the top 10 hotels in Britain by The Sunday Times, has received a Bib Gourmand Award from the Michelin Guide and comes highly recommended by The Property Race Day Committee! This lot offers à la carte dinner (excluding wine) and accommodation for one night for two people, Sunday through to Thursday subject to availability on a mutually agreeable date prior to 1 July 2012.

LOT 13

GASTRONOMIQUE BREAK FOR TWO AT THE MARQUIS AT ALKHAM

Kindly donated by Tony Marsden • Minimum bid £150

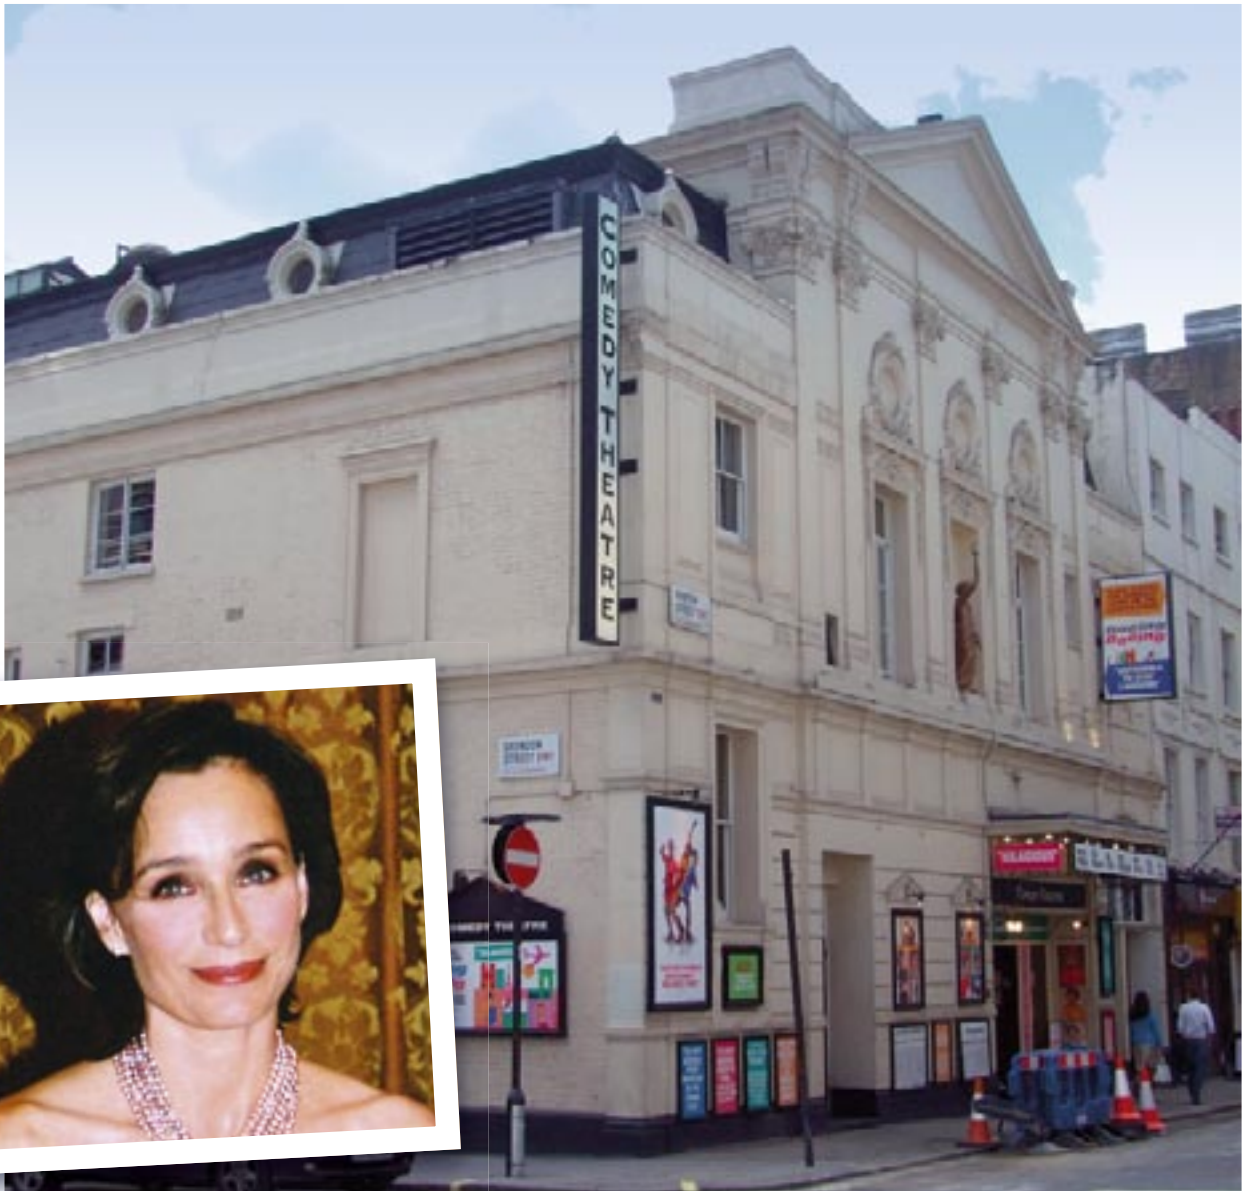

The Marquis at Alkham is a unique and distinctive restaurant with rooms offering boutique style luxury accommodation in the heart of the English countryside. The styling is contemporary, the décor is chic, but look outside the window and you could not be anywhere but England. The Marquis offers a seasonally inspired menu created by Head Chef Charlie Lakin, one of only three chefs in England to be awarded a rising star in the 2010 Michelin Guide. The emphasis is on robust, fresh flavours and locally sourced ingredients – whether it's the catch of the day landed by the fishing boats at Deal, rabbit from the Alkham Valley, or wild herbs foraged straight from the countryside. Charlie's ever-changing menu of traditional dishes with a thoroughly modern twist is already earning accolades from the Michelin Guide, the Good Food Guide and the AA Restaurant Guide.

This fantastic lot offers a bottle of champagne on arrival, evening dinner from the six course tasting menu including wines carefully matched to each course by resident sommelier, overnight accommodation for two people in the luxurious boutique styled suite, and full English breakfast before departure the following day.

LOT 14

TICKETS FOR HAROLD PINTER'S PLAY 'BETRAYAL' AT THE COMEDY THEATRE AND AFTER-SHOW DRINKS WITH KRISTIN SCOTT THOMAS FOR FOUR PEOPLE

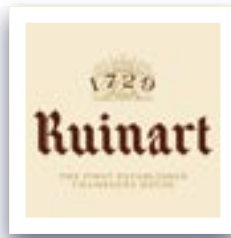

Kindly donated by Kristin Scott Thomas • Minimum bid £400

Enjoy a memorable summer night at the theatre to see Ian Rickson's new production of Harold Pinter's 'Betrayal'.

This brand-new production stars Kristin Scott Thomas, Douglas Henshall and Ben Miles, in a limited 12 week run. An Olivier award-winning play, which premiered at the National Theatre, 'Betrayal' is now considered a modern classic. Written by Pinter in 1978, 'Betrayal' is critically regarded as one of his major dramatic works. It features his characteristically economical dialogue, characters' hidden emotions and veiled motivations and their self-absorbed competitive one-upmanship, face-saving, dishonesty and self-deceptions. Your group of four people will be invited to join Kristin Scott Thomas for drinks after the show. Tickets available by arrangement through voucher before 20 August 2011. Successful bidder advised to make early contact to arrange.

LOT 31

A GUCCI HANDBAG

Kindly donated by Gucci • Minimum bid £200

In 1921, Guccio Gucci opened a leather goods company and small luggage store in his native Florence. Though his vision for the brand was inspired by London, and the refined aesthetic of English nobility he had witnessed while working in the Savoy Hotel, his goal on returning to Italy was to ally this classy sensibility with the unique skills of his native Italy. Now steeped in glamour, famed for fashionable yet timeless products, loved by movie stars and bequeathed to future generations, few fashion houses can boast as much mystique as Gucci.

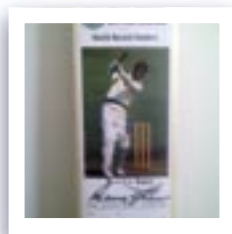

LOT 32

A FERRAGAMO HANDBAG

Kindly donated by David Erwin • Minimum bid £200

LOT 34

'CITY OF DREAMS' – AN OIL ON CANVAS BY REVATI SINGH

Kindly donated anonymously · Minimum bid £250

Revati Sharma Singh captures the warmth depth and vibrancy of India in her paintings and is India's hottest new export. After graduating from the Delhi College of Art in 1996, Singh has exhibited in India, Singapore and London and is the only Indian woman to have her own show at the Kings Road gallery in London. 'Mumbai i – City of Dreams' is a multi-layered piece which can be viewed from three angles. The first is the dream of what Mumbai has to offer – one can see the outline of a woman lying on her back throwing a child in the air releasing birds, dreams and happy images. The second is to look at the dark side of the painting, signifying the great divide between rich, poor, old and new. The third layer represents the sinister part of the city with dark dilapidated buildings reminiscent of the slums. A truly masterful piece of art and a collector's dream. Size 60x60".
